

Dentists Can Help Detect Oral Cancer

The American Cancer Society estimates 54,000 new cases of oral or oropharyngeal cancer will be diagnosed in 2022. Oral cancer screenings during dental visits can help catch oral cancer early, which contributes to better treatment outcomes.

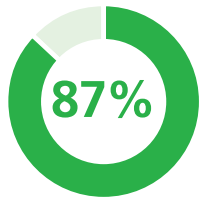

Surveyed dentists who perform risk assessments look for the following oral diseases:

Caries

Oral and
oropharyngeal cancer

Periodontal disease